

Standard Algorithms Overview Exercises

Standard Algorithms Overview

- Using an STL algorithm, write a program which finds the first occurrence of a given letter in an `std::string` object
- Display the index of the first match
- Check that your program correctly handles the case where the searched-for letter is not found
- Modify your program so that it ignores case (e.g., searching for 'o' will succeed if the string contains 'O')